

Denise Irvine

RE: Scientific Committee

This is to acknowledge your contribution as a member of the Scientific Committee and to certify that you have peer reviewed 13 abstracts for the 15th Australasian Nurse Educators Conference to be held in Hamilton from 23 - 25 November 2011. The review process was blind and against predetermined criteria. Each abstract took between 15-20 minutes to review. The overall theme for this conference is "Innovations in Nurse Education in Practice, Thinking Aloud, Thinking Ahead" and the sub themes are:

1. Tomorrows Workforce – Innovations, Capacity & Capabilities
2. Borderless Research & Learning – Challenges
3. "Koiora – Te Okonga Ake" (The Awakening through Health).
4. Communities of Practice
5. Health Policy– Influences & Implications

As you may be aware, the focus of this conference is on innovations in nurse education and practice for the future. Our hope is that challenges for nursing practice are identified and innovative solutions for nursing education are generated to respond to these challenges. Presenters of papers and posters will consider how we meet these challenges and how we provide a future workforce that is ready to take nursing forward into the next decade. Your efforts in reviewing the abstracts will ensure that the conference will be recognised for the quality of the presentations thus ensuring that the challenges are met.

Dr Willem Fourie
Chair: ANEC Scientific Committee

17 August 2011